1132 Cass S.E. Built about 1900 to house a ladies' literary club. The East Side Ladies Literary Club dates to 1894. It has met in the Women's City Club since the late 1960's, when the brick structure on Cass Avenue was sold to St. John's Missionary Baptist Church. Mary Beth Vandenberg joined the club in 1965. In a 1993 interview she said, "We don't work very hard at getting new members because our people are getting older. When we die, the club will die."
